Product Quotation Disclaimer

Nilfisk, Inc. makes this equipment recommendation based on the request of the customer named above. Nilfisk, Inc. assumes no risk or liability for the company named above complying with OSHA and NFPA, or other regulatory body standards, rules and regulations.

By placing an order with Nilfisk I-VACs, YOU, the purchaser and intended user, acknowledge that YOUR 'Authority Having Jurisdiction' (AHJ) has determined that the specific type of vacuum equipment YOU are ordering is suitable for use in YOUR intended application and/or hazloc rated environment. Nilfisk, Inc., as the product manufacturer, is not an AHJ and cannot approve any particular vacuum product for any specific application of use. It is YOUR responsibility to understand the role of YOUR AHJ, to obtain its approval of the use of specific vacuum equipment YOU are ordering, and to use the vacuum properly as described in the instruction manual and in accordance with YOUR AHJ's approval.

YOUR AHJ is defined in Article 100 of the National Electric Code (NEC - NFPA 70) and in NFPA 652. If YOU need assistance identifying YOUR AHJ, please contact YOUR local Nilfisk sales representative for assistance.

If the machine quoted above includes an 'NFPA transformation kit,' it will be factory-modified to ensure bonding and grounding in accordance with NFPA guidelines for collecting combustible dust in non-hazardous (non-classified) environments. The purchaser and intended user of this vacuum acknowledge that compliance with the stated NFPA guidelines does not constitute a certification or release for this machine to be used in any hazardous (classified) location.

Freight Estimate Disclaimer

If this quote includes a freight estimate please read the following disclaimer. All freight estimates are provided as a service to our customers. Each estimate is unique as all orders require custom packing and have individual shipping requirements. The rates and charges stated herein are estimates based on information provided at the time of the initial request and are not guaranteed. Unknown requirements such as a change in the items and quantities, expedited service, residential delivery, inside delivery, lift gate, stair charges, storage fees, etc. will result in accessorial charges and an inaccurate estimate. Any additional delivery requirements not mentioned will incur additional charges. Shipments with multiple packages may have discrepancies in pricing due to shipping industry size and weight calculations. All Freight Estimates are based on current rates. Prices are subject to change due to daily trucking industry fluctuations and current fuel surcharges. Actual freight charges are determined at the time of shipment. The final freight charges shall be assessed on the documented facts of the shipment such as the description of the freight, actual shipping weight and dimensions, surcharges and industry increases in effect at the time of shipment.

Sincerely,

Larry Riggi

Jess,

Here is the quote.

It is over $12k and over $15k if we get the overhead cleaning kit for the pipes.

We can probably get quotes from Grainger and someone else.

Let me know.

Thanks.

Re: Critical Area Vacuum and Kit

The Sewer District needs a Critical Area Vacuum and attachment Kit.

I have obtained 3 quotes for a Nilfisk Industrial Vacuum but have been unable to find 3 quotes for the kit.

Please find the quotes for the vacuum as well as proof of the search for: Kit, Part Number: M30083 attached.

I am requesting an exemption for the 3 quotes required for the kit based on the lack of availability.

Product Description
Explosion-proof vacuums are made of nonsparking materials to help prevent the ignition of combustible dust. They allow cleaning in areas where dry goods and other potential ignition sources are stored or processed. They're commonly used around products such as flour, starch, animal feed, light metals, coal, plastics, and textiles.
