County of Rensselaer

Local Law No. _____ of the year 2022

A local law Enacting the Rensselaer County Solar Panel Recycling Law

By: Casale, Choquette

Be it enacted by the County Legislature of the (Name of Legislative Body)

County of Rensselaer as follows:

SECTION 1: TITLE

This Local Law shall be known as "The Rensselaer County Solar Panel Recycling Law".

SECTION 2: PURPOSE AND INTENT

The use of solar panels is increasing. The typical service life of a photovoltaic panel is 25-30 years, and many early adopters of solar power now have panels at or nearing the end of their lifespan, and it is expected solar panel waste will increase drastically in the coming years. Waste created from photovoltaic panels presents a threat to the environment, as they include heavy metals that have the potential to contaminate groundwater if placed in landfills. Panels also contain rare earth materials and valuable materials, which should be utilized beyond the life of the solar panel.

In order to preserve the environment, protect human health, and utilize resources most prudently, solar panels should be collected and disposed of in a manner that reduces the environmental impacts, and capitalizes on the reuse of rare and valuable metals. Establishing a solar panel collection program among manufacturers of solar panels will provide an alternative disposal method, and promote the recycling of solar panels.

As residents of New York State switch to alternative forms of energy in order to reduce dependence on fossil fuels, we have seen a rise in the use of solar panels. The immense growth of the solar energy industry could lead to an accumulation of photovoltaic (PV) waste. The U.S Department of Energy projects the nation will have cumulatively installed 700 gigawatts of PV equipment.

Eventually, all of this equipment will reach the end of their life and become PV waste. These PV modules contain various valuable materials and rare metals, proper recycling will ensure that these materials and metals are able to be reused. By recycling solar panels, we can ensure that solar panels do not prematurely arrive at landfills where they can have potential negative environmental effects. It is essential that we take action that is both economically and environmentally friendly. In order to do this we must establish infrastructure to accommodate for the long-term management of solar waste.

SECTION 3: DEFINITIONS

- 3.1 "Collection program" means a system, established, maintained, and funded by solar panel manufactures, in which out-of-service solar panels are collected and recycled.
- 3.2 "Recycling" means reprocessing solar panels in order to recover materials for re-use and/or repurpose.
- 3.3 "Repurpose" means utilizing materials taken from the solar panel recycling process and implementing them for a use other than the original use.
- 3.4 "Re-use" means utilizing materials taken from the solar panel recycling process and continuing the original use.
- 3.5 "Manufacturer" is a person or other entity that manufactures solar panels.

SECTION 4: SOLAR PANEL COLLECTION PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS

- 4.1 Any manufacturer, alone or in coordination with other manufacturers, must establish and maintain a collection program that provides for the disposal of out-of-service solar panels at no cost to the party disposing of the solar panel(s). This collection program must properly repurpose and reuse the appropriate materials, such as rare earth materials and commercially valuable metals, and dispose of panels in a manner that does not jeopardize the environment or groundwater quality.

- 4.2 No manufacturer may sell, or propose for sale, solar panels in the County unless participating in an established solar panel collection program.
- 4.3 The collection programs are to be maintained financially by the solar panel manufacturers, alone or in coordination with other manufacturers.

- 4.5 Solar panel manufacturers will be required to provide to the County a report of the number of solar panels collected, and the web-based information they have provided the public.
- 4.6 No transfer station or landfill shall knowingly allow solar panels to be placed in a landfill or incinerator. Landfills and transfer stations must decline solar panels, and provide notice to the public, in the form of signage and statements on webpages, that solar panels will not be accepted.
- 4.7 Any consumer or contractor replacing or removing solar panels, or destructing a structure upon which solar panels are placed, must ensure out-of-service solar panels are transported to a collection site.
